COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES SUCCESS

750 Children Enjoy Xmas Tree Friday of Last Week. Dance Thronged In Evening.

The community Christmas tree and celebration Friday afternoon and evening of last week were decidedly a success. The tree, gaily decorated, was set up by the committee of the Sonoma Business Men's Association in Union Hall and genial Frank Muller was Santa Claus to 750 happy children to whom he distributed prize packages of candy.

In the evening there was a merry crowd of young folks and shoppers who participated in the jolly Christmas dance.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan was presented with an elegant aviator's coat of real leather as a token of the appreciation of Sonoma business men for his faithful vigilance in safeguarding the town. Joe refused to stand for a public presentation so was quietly given the handsome present, which he acknowledges in another column

HERE FROM NEW YORK

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lambert of Buffalo, N. Y., parents of L. Lambert, proprietor of the Corner Drug Store, are making their first visit to California and are charmed with Sonoma. They compare our valley to Switzerland and think the climate remarkable for winter time.

The Lamberts may locate here permanently although they own their own home in Buffalo, where the senior Lambert recently disposed of his drug business.

HOLIDAY WEEK AT STATE HOME

The holiday week at the State Home this year has been made particularly attractive, Dr. Butler and his aides doing everything possible to make bright and cheery the Christmas and New Year festivals for the 1400 boys and girls of the institution. Following is the calendar of events:

Sunday, Dec. 18—Sunday School Christmas Service.

Wednesday, Dec. 21—Christmas Operetta for Juniors.

Thursday, Dec. 22—Christmas Operetta for Seniors.

Saturday, Dec. 24—Christmas Tree in Assembly Hall.

Sunday, Christmas Day—Christmas Musical Service, sermon by Rev. Isaac Cookman.

Tuesday, Dec. 27—Christmas Party for Boys and Girls.

Thursday, Dec. 29—Moving Pictures for Girls.

Friday, Dec. 30—Moving Pictures for Boys.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE MAKES FINE RECORD

Miss Marguerite Helberg, a recent graduate of the Sonoma High School has completed the regular 9 months course at Munson's school for private secretaries in just 4 months. The splendid record of this 17 year old Sonoma girl is being widely commented on at the school. She expects to qualify for an excellent position.

Mrs. McKinnon, aged mother of Mrs. Munfrey recently suffered a bad fall while on her way to church. Her nose was badly cut by her glasses and she was generally shaken up. With her customary vitality, however, she is recovering despite her 90 years and many friends will be glad to know that she was not more seriously hurt.

Miss Lucile Carson formerly of Boyes Springs, has a confidential position in the metropolis with O'Connor, Moffit & Co.

OUR NEW YEAR GREETINGS

TO ALL OUR READERS WE EXTEND BEST WISHES FOR A BRIGHT, PROSPEROUS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR. WE THANK OUR PATRONS FOR THE HEARTY SUPPORT OF THE PAST YEAR AND WILL GIVE OUR BEST EFFORTS TO THE PUBLICATION OF A NEWSPAPER WORTHY OF OUR GROWING COMMUNITY. IT IS WITH PRIDE THAT WE LOOK UPON THE PROGRESS MADE BY SONOMA VALLEY DURING 1921 AND THE INDEX-TRIBUNE WILL CONTINUE TO DO ALL WITHIN ITS POWER TO ASSIST OUR PROGRESSIVE CITIZENSHIP IN THE UPBUILDING AND BETTERMENT OF TOWN AND VALLEY.

OUR ONE RESOLUTION IS TO MAKE THE INDEX-TRIBUNE OF GREATER UTILITY THAN EVER BEFORE IN THE ADVANCEMENT OF THIS BEAUTIFUL SECTION OF CALIFORNIA, AND IN THIS LAUDABLE WORK WE ASK THE HEARTY SUPPORT AND CO-OPERATION OF EVERYBODY DURING 1922.

IN HEART-TO-HEART CONCLUSION, WE WANT TO TELL YOU THAT WE AIM TO GIVE OUR SUBSCRIBERS THE KIND OF NEWS AND INFORMATION WHICH WILL BE MOST ACCEPTABLE TO READERS. WHAT DO YOU LIKE BEST AND WHY? LET US HEAR FROM OUR SUBSCRIBERS THAT WE MAY BETTER SERVE YOU.

CHRISTMAS OBSERVED AT ALL CHURCHES

At the M. E. church there were union services, Rev. Isaac Cookman occupying the pulpit and delivering a splendid sermon. In the evening both congregations united in services at the Congregational church on Broadway, where a fine musical program was given and Rev. Stephen Crowe gave an eloquent sermon on the Nativity and its influence down the ages.

St. Francis' Catholic church was well filled at both masses, the high mass at 11 o'clock bringing out many devout parishoners to honor the birth of the Savior. Rev. J. F. Byrne gave an inspiring sermon appropriate to the great day.

A feature of the decoration at St. Francis was the crib, symbolic of the one in Bethlehem from which joy to all the world came forth. This feature was prepared by the skilful artisan, Frank Muller.

AMERICAN LEGION MASK BALL TONIGHT

Many party goers from this and other sections will be out en masse and masked tonight at the American Legion's ball in Union Hall.

Fine music and novel features are on the program for the New Year's eve festivities of the ex-service men.

RIGONI MUCH ALIVE

J. Rigoni, whose death was reported last week, is very much alive. Mr. Rigoni was overcome in San Francisco by a defective gas jet's leak but was found in time and resuscitated. He had been working at J. Altimira's tamale factory in the city.

PROMINENT INSURANCE MAN GUEST AT FETTERS

Charles M. Kinsella, prominent insurance man of San Francisco, is spending a month at Fetters Springs for the benefit of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Clewe and sons, Billy and Temple, drove to Sacramento to spend Christmas with Mrs. Clewe's folks. They encountered terrible weather and were forced to put into port at Dixon and have the top of their car more firmly anchored. Many cars had their tops tied down with rope, so Mr. Clewe reports. It was a stormy trip but repaid by delightful hospitality when they arrived in the capital city.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE IS CHRISTMAS BRIDE

Miss Emma Perry Married to Young San Francisco Business Man at Home Here.

Despite the great storm Christmas day, friends from as far as Sacramento and the bay cities gathered at the Perry home, south of Sonoma, to be present at the marriage of Emma Perry, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Perry, to Raymond J. Clark, of San Francisco, which took place at 3 o'clock, the service being read by the Rev. Isaac Cookman of the Sonoma Congregational church.

The bride graduated from the Sonoma Valley High School with the class of 1920, having taken the domestic science and commercial courses. She later went to San Francisco and took an advanced commercial course in the Dudley Business College, going from there the same day she graduated to an office position in a large wholesale house.

The groom, who is a young man of education and refinement, came recently from Indiana to make his home in San Francisco, and he, also, holds a responsible position in the same business concern. Their home will be in San Francisco for which place they departed on Monday afternoon.

The bride, who is a bright young girl of charming manner and comely brunette type of beauty, will be wished the greatest happiness by former schoolmates and friends in Sonoma Valley.

ALICE IN HUNGERLAND

George C. Crow, director of Armenian Relief Work in Napa, Mendocino and Sonoma counties, has been visiting his father, the M. E. pastor, and will arrange for films of the Armenian relief to be shown here at the Don Theatre. Alice In Hungerland, an appealing picture of conditions in the Near East, will be on the program at the Don Saturday evening, Jan. 7th.

JIMMY ACQUISTAPACE WRITES FROM ITALY

Jimmy Acquistapace who left for Italy some time ago with his mother and other relatives has written to Sonoma friends telling of his safe arrival and nice trip. The following letter was received by ye editor this week:

Pintedo, Italy, Dec. 3, 1921.

Dear Friend:—

We arrived safe and had a fine trip and a good time, I haven't had time to write before. I receive your paper every week and am glad to hear the news of Sonoma. It is snowing here today and the frost stays on the ground all day. My uncle made me a pair of wooden shoes and I am wearing them now. My mother is very busy with all her friends and relatives I didn't know I had so many relatives

I would like to know who won the auto races, I could not find out here.

Give my best regards and good wishes to all my friends.

Hoping this will find you and your wife in good health as mother and I are, and wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, I am, your friend, Jimmie Acquistapace.

Paul Dolfini, who is taking care of the hotel at Caliente during Mrs. Acquistapace's absence, also received a letter this week from his young friend Jimmy. The travelers will not know their place when they return as Paul Dolfini is making many improvements including the planting out of some orchard and vineyard.

AL GRIFFITH HAS BEEN ILL

Al Griffith, retired orchardist, and garage owner, has been ill with a severe heart attack this week and under the care of Doctor Hays of this place and Dr. E. Z. Hennessey of Napa.

Despite a bad attack he was down town Thursday and refuses to accept his physicians' edict to remain in bed. Mr. Griffith has always been a very active man and refuses to give up to his sickness.

He is the owner of the Palace Garage property and has been actively interested in the improvement of Sonoma's business district for the past year.

STORM CAUSES WRECK AND HALTS TRAFFIC

Heavy Wind and Rain Results In Considerable Damage and Inconvenienced Xmas Travelers.

The hardest storm of the season hit this section Christmas day and was general throughout the bay district. A high wind accompanied by a heavy rainfall tore down trees, fences and outbuildings, flooded the railroad tracks and tied up traffic. Christmas travelers had a hard time connecting up with dinner engagements and ferry service via Sausalito was suspended until noon Sunday on account of the rough weather on the bay.

Many Sonoma people who went down on the N. W. P. were delayed at Sausalito and were about to plan an impromptu turkey dinner at a restaurant there when the ferry trips were resumed.

Some local car owners, among them Charles LaTorres and wife, braved the elements and drove through to Sausalito despite the stormy going. They experienced no mishap but were delayed, with a long line of other motorists, in getting across the bay.

The Sunday night S. P. train en route to El Verano ran into a washout this side of the Napa Creek drawbridge. The front coaches of the train left the track, the engineer and fireman being slightly injured and Express Messenger Colgan imprisoned in the mail car, which took fire. He chopped his way to safety with the emergency ax and with help extinguished the blaze in the overturned car. In the pouring rain and windstorm, passengers were marooned for several hours but all were thankful at their escape from what might have been a very disastrous wreck. The Richmond San Rafael ferry boat ran aground and demoralized traffic between the Marin and Oakland shores.

Damage in Sonoma Valley was confined mostly to the falling of many trees which impeded traffic all day Sunday. Roadmaster Helberg was called from his Christmas dinner to clear the road between here and Schellville along the Hall and Clements ranches. The state highway and Petaluma roads also suffered blockades because of uprooted trees.

Hundreds of sea gulls took refuge inland and sought shelter in the lower part of the valley until after the storm had spent its fury.

The rainfall as recorded by rain guager, Gale, is as follows: Total to December 28, 9.61 inches. On the 24th, .62 inches, on the 25th, 3 inches and on the 27th, .92 inches. Last year at this time 18.16 inches had been recorded.

THE FOUR HORSEMEN COMES TO DON THURSDAY

The great screen epic "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" comes to the Don Theatre Thursday night, Jan. 5th, the first presentation in Sonoma valley.

"The Four Horsemen of the Apoclypse" took more than six months to complete. Upwards of 12,000 persons were engaged. More than 125,000 tons of masonry, steel, lumber, furniture and shrubbery—in excess of the material used in the Woolworth building were used in constructing the massive settings.

A costume factory was erected on the Metro studio grounds for "dressing" the production. Two machine shops were incidentals of the other building operations. More than 500,000 feet of raw film was exposed in the making of the picture, which when shown on the screen will not exceed 10,000 feet. Fourteen camera men were employed to "shoot" the big scenes from every angle, and Rex Ingram, the director, at times had fourteen directors assisting him. It required weeks to weed out and assemble the completed scenes from the eighty-five miles of film exposed.

Collections of art treasures from galleries and private sources, valued beyond price, was used in dressing the handsome interior settings. The insurance alone on these art works was $375,000.

The cast interpreting the roles in the most widely read book of all time, excepting the Bible contains fifty principal players who in other propuctions would be rated as stars.

Manager John Mohr announces that the regular Wednesday picture, The Lure of Youth, will be shown Monday night, with no performance on Wednesday. Thursday will be the big night.

LAURENZIS TO MOVE TO SAN FRANCISCO

Miss Catherine Laurenzi, Sonoma Valley grape buyer and her mother, will leave shortly for San Francisco where they will reside. Miss Laurenzi returning next season during the grape harvest. They have rented a beautiful three story residence in the Mission district and Miss Annie Laurenzi will also make her home there.

Sonoma friends will wish them the best of luck in their new home.

SONOMA VALLEY AND 1922

WHILE THE BUSINESS OF THE WORLD during 1922 will interest and effect us all, the outlook on our immediate environment interests us greatly because we will come in direct contact with local conditions and our attitude and conduct may have direct effect on the community's future. It is therefore interesting to make a resume of the past year and a survey of the one which is ushered in on the calendar tomorrow. Sonoma Valley has a bright and promising new year because of its improved citizenship which has been aroused from its lethargy and has set its house in order for the new era and what it has to offer. The country as a whole is settling down to normal and California is in line for the greatest boom in its history. Boom is hardly the word, for beside the detonation which will resound around the world our fame as a state is backed up by the greatest natural resources in the treasurehouse of any land and they will be recognized widely and acknowledged. Sonoma Valley folks have vision enough to see the local opportunity and came to the conclusion some time since that this beautiful section was worth spending money on and worthy of the marshaling of the best civic spirit in its midst that we might forge ahead and take our proud place beside other proud communities. As a consequence we have several live promotion bodies functioning in our midst with the only drawback that scattered forces may not accomplish as much as a united body. However, if harmony can better be preserved by the separate organizations and enthusiasm be kept at a temperature through good natured rivalry, the more the merrier.

Modern streets in Sonoma have become a reality in the past year and side walks throughout the residence section are well under way. Surfacing the Black Point cut-off has been started by the State Highway Commission with prospects that we may get a whole job instead of a part-way one if our promotion bodies and legislative representative will remind of the premium brought by the recent sale of highway bonds and make a stand for the completed job instead of accepting the present specifications which cut off Black Point improvement at Fairville. The Schellville-Santa Rosa road has been promised by spring and already many rights-of-way have been secured. With the road conditions looking so favorable for 1922, prosperity will have a clear track and the most important foundation work in the history of Sonoma Valley is practically assured.

Not only from the outside comes prosperity but from within where our local industries have been giving a splendid account of themselves. Better marketing conditions, more science and more co-operation, have done much for our farmers, and their thrift and good management is attested by the local bank reports. They have demonstrated what can be done here and Doubting Thomases and calamity howlers have been sidetracked with the silurian who kept Sonoma back for years. You cannot keep a good town down or hide its light under a bushel; wherefore we are facing an unprecedented prosperity in 1922. May it be a happy as well as a prosperous year for all our people is the wish of the Index-Tribune.

CALIFORNIA AND THE NATIONAL DRY SPECTACLE

CHESTER ROWELL, APOSTLE OF THE DRYS, aims to be conclusive and convincing in his arguments for the Wright Enforcement Act in California, but he fails to comfort. He might rally more votes if he were more optimistic. He tells us right off the bat, however, that the U. S. A. is hopelessly and forever dry and that therefore California better keep step with the Union.

Now, the bootleggers' step is a stride we can all notice without Rowell or anyone else pointing it out and while in California it may be making strides which make us stand aghast, the average person recognizes that we can never trip up bootleggers fast enough to stop those alongside of them and behind them in thirsty America, bordered by two immense coast lines, a wet country to the north of us, a wily, unsettled neighbor to the south of us and this country itself in individual rebellion at the dry straightjacket which has been fastened upon it.

Mr. Rowell reminds that we must respect and uphold the law whatever it is, and his appeal might strike a responsive chord even in those who are opposed to the Volstead law if he held out any hope that we were to expect modification eventually. He does no such thing. He does not ask the passage of the Wright Act to save the embarrassment of the Federal Government pending a repeal or revision of prohibition enactment. He asks us to become stoics—those who are not puritanic—and to accept the fact that "for longer than any man now on earth can live, the Eighteenth Amendment, unchanged, will be the fundamental law of the United States." He does not attempt to prove that this law does not run counter to the Constitution but candidly admits that the people are at the mercy of their Legislatures, notoriously dryer than the popular vote, and that thirteen states can keep the Amendment in the Constitution despite the people and can be depended upon to do so. California alone has rejected an enforcement act, says Rowell, and California must not reiterate its unenviable record of being the only State which refuses by direct vote to enforce the Constitution of the United States.

It is just possible that Californians more than ever value their citizenship above hypocrisy and will again refuse to use their franchise, the most sacred instrument in their keeping, to strengthen the brazen coup of reformers which has undermined democracy and made it such a mockery in a country which came into being for the people, of the people and by the people. The form of the Constitution may have been changed by Rowe uncutable, irretrievable, inexorable appendix, the Eighteenth Amendment, but the spirit breathed into it in 1776 is inviolate and sacred and people of California love, respect and venerate it too deeply to pile up any more sham endorsement of the reformative tinkering with it. They will probably vote down any measure which will further capitalize the humiliation to which the laws of America are being subjected and decline to join in the hypocritical hallelujah endorsed by Wright, Rowell, et al.

California may have to sit by and watch the dry extravaganza but she probably will refuse to surrender her state rights and compound what she regards as a national error.

EL VERANO ITEMS

The writer wishes all a Happy New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Craib of San Francisco are the guests of relatives here this week.

Miss Irene Dowdall of Concord was here over the holidays, the guest of relatives.

Mrs. R. Gatto of San Francisco is a guest at the Chelini residence.

Miss Marie Minkel of San Francisco spent the week end the guest of her folks.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McKinnon of Concord were here, the guests of the Dowdall family.

E. J. Franquelin, an S. P. engineer on the Dunsmuir run, was here over the holidays visiting his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Porthos have returned from an extended tour of the world, visiting Ireland, England, Scotland, France and many other countries of interest. They are the guesets of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Raubaud. Mr. Porthos spent some time in gay Paree and says it is some city.

Gene Hunt, a Sacramento traveling man, was here over the week end.

The entertainment given at the El Verano Villa hall last Sunday evening by the pupils of our grammar school was well attended and enjoyed by all.

Arthur Baines, El Verano's war hero, who was the first to enlist from here in the great World War and saw real service in Germany was here over the holidays from Sacramento, where he is in the garage business.

Sunday evening at Romal, S. P. train No. 70 on the Santa Rosa branch coming this way hit a washout and the baggage car and engine went in to the ditch. Express Messenger G. W. Colgan escaped with his life by tearing an opening through the end of the car, which was afire, with an ax. The passengers in the rear coach were shaken up but fortunately no one was hurt. The engine was in charge of Engineer Dan Sullivan and Fireman Richard Hoffman, who escaped injury.

The many friends here of Frank Arnold, who ran the mail car on the Santa Rosa branch for many years were pained to hear of his death at Berkeley last week. Mr. Arnold was in the mail service for 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Holman of Los Angeles are here, the guests at the A. W. Weaver home.

Mr. and Mrs. Verbeck spent the holidays in Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Love of Antioch were visitors at the Alex McGill ranch the fore part of the week.

Dave Forni, Al Rossi and J. Basileu were duck hunting Tuesday in the wilds of Wingo. The boys had good luck. They remembered the writer with two nice mallards.

Mrs. Hermie Wood was here Sunday visiting friends.

Perry DeRose and George Caviglia were in San Francisco sight seeing over the holidays.

Garny Harris of Sonoma was here Sunday renewing old acquaintances. Garny looks the same as he did 30 years ago.

The Velvet Hammer, written by A. B. B. appearing in the Press Democrat and who paid a tribute to our old friend, Frank Burris of the Sonoma Valley Bank and Father Byrne, popular Sonoma Priest, is being read with interest here. The writer of these articles is clever, and many are wondering who he is. Call in and see us, A. B. B., we'd like to look you over.

Lucky for our disciple of Isaac Walton, John Larson, the fisherman, that he did not go in quest of the striped bass last Sunday to Napa Junction, as the wreck on the S. P. would have had the El Verano nimrod on board, and in the wreckage, and probably drowned.

Billy Brannen of Parente Tavern, well known in the Valley of the Moon, formerly featherweight champion under Louis Parente's care, who defeated Ah Wing, of Chinatown for the Pacific Coast championship, has invited Billy to celebrate his New Year eve in Chinatown, San Francisco, the guest of Wing. At present Billy is assistant manager at Parente's Villa, and he will accept Mr. Wing's invitation to see the old year out with his old antagonist of the roped arena. We would like to be with you, Billy. Have good cheer.

The new year eve will be celebrated throughout our valley. At Parente's Tavern an up-to-date vaudeville will play at the concert hall and there will also be dancing and music by the famous Parente Jazz Band. At Boyes Springs another show will be put on and Chief Cause will be attired in his fireman's garb to welcome the guests and show them the different fire apparatus. Amusements and dancing will be in order at the famous Caliente Springs Hotel under the direction of Tom Corcoran. A fine feed, entertainment, cards and dancing will see the old year out. Fetters Springs will be there a hundred with an entertainment and dance. Fine music will be the feature. Talent from San Francisco will provide fun for the evening.

Fourteen rooms are being built adjoining the Fetters club house by the management, getting ready for the 1922 rush, which this popular resort is sure to have.

Mrs. W. H. Bush of Sonoma Vista was the lucky winner of the prizes given out by the Christmas special edition of the Petaluma Argus, in the puzzle contest. Mrs. Bush won one of the first prizes.

HANDLING DRUGS

here is no hap-hazard proceeding. On the contrary we take infinite care to handle them so that it is impossible for mistakes to occur. And the drugs we use are as pure and fresh as we can get them. These two facts mean a drug service that is as it should be. It is the only sort of service you can afford to employ.

He came out as an escort to the body of the late Congressman Elston of Berkeley who suicided by jumping into the Hudson River. Mr. Lea was named by the President to make the trip West together with other members of the House and Senate. The early reconvening of Congress made Mr. Lea's visit here short, much to the regret of friends and Santa Rosa relatives.

NATIONAL FORESTS RETURN LARGE INCOME

Livestock consisting of more than 9,500,000 cattle, sheep, horses, swine and goats grazed on the ranges of the National Forests during the past fiscal year, and of the great store of timber in those reservations more than 1,170,000 board feet were sold. Receipts paid in or still due from these two items combined to swell the income producing business of the National Forests during the year to $4,468,940, says the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture, in its annual report made public recently.

The number of animals grazing under permit on Forest ranges are classified as follows: Cattle, 2,050,715, an increase over the previous year of 16,916; sheep, 7,412,412, an increase of 141,276; horses, 78,871, a decrease of 1,144; goats, 43,190, a decrease of 10,195; swine, 3,177, a decrease of 889.

Because of the financial stringency in the livestock business during the past year, the payment of grazing fees usually made 30 days before the opening of the grazing season was deferred by Congress until Dec. 1, 1921, affecting to some extent the revenues of the Forest Service from that source, but the total grazing receipts, assuming that all obligations are paid, will show a falling off of less than one-half of one per cent.

The general business depression naturally affected the lumber industry, yet the cut of National Forest timber increased 3 1-2 per cent, and was larger than in any previous year. Both the cut and sales of timber for future operations show strikingly the stability of the National Forest timber business, the report states. Actual sales of timber during the year totaled 1,170,186,000 board feet valued at $3,211,218 as compared with sales of 1,326,922,000, valued at $3,047,745, during the preceding year. The actual cut of timber during the last fiscal year totaled 833,264,000 board feet valued at $1,943,390. This compares with a cut of 806,131,000 board feet, valued at $1,770,399 during the preceding year. The total number of sales of timber, large and small, was placed at 12,570, as compared with 13,272, during the preceding year. Of these totals 12,236 and 12,762, respectively, in 1920, and 1921, represent sales of $100 or less.

Sales of timber during the last fiscal year included about 40,000,000 board feet for railroad ties and about 20,000,000 board feet for saw logs in the Washakie Forest, Wyo.; about 600,000,000 board feet in the Sierra Forest in California for boxes and lumber; and about 84,000,000 board feet, chiefly yellow pine, on the Crater National Forest in Oregon.

In all sales, the report points out, the future productiveness of the ground is assured by the retention of young, thrifty trees or of seed trees, and by precautions against fire, including the disposal of the inflamable slash.

An additional number of technically trained men, especially grazing and forest assistants who can be turned directly into the technical administration of National Forests, timber and range lands, is imperatively needed, according to Col. W. B. Greeley, Chief Forester; so are higher salaries for the valuable men now on the Forest Service rolls.

FISHER DENIED DIVORCE BY JUDGE SEAWELL

Eugene Fisher who was in charge of Dunbar's plumbing shop here while Mr. Dunbar was in Canada and who left after getting his employer's business badly tangled up has been denied an annulment of his marriage with Edna M. Fisher whose divorce decree he claimed was defective at the time she married him.

The court made inquiry into Fisher's motives in annuling the marriage and refused to sanction the action particularly as the plaintiff did not appear to press his case. His whereabouts are unknown but when he left here it was generally reported that he was to marry a young girl formerly in his employ.

For some time past J. J. Dunbar has been searching for Fisher, whom he would have make reparation for damages done his business during the time he was in charge of it. Shortly before Dunbar returned from Canada Fisher bought a Ford car and decamped.

PICKLE IS EASILY MADE

In the old saloon days there were certain town characters who could be depended upon to get bilin' drunk every Saturday night. Black listing proved ineffective. There was always some saloon man willing to take a chance on the revocation of his license, or some individual willing to buy booze for these poor unfortunates. Since the abolition of the saloon, these periodicals have gone right along getting drunk at regular intervals. Where do they get their booze? Somebody ought to know.—Petaluma Argus.

ONE ON THE BANKERS

"How's this? asked the lawyer. "You've named six bankers in your will to be pallbearers. Of course, it is all right, but wouldn't you rather choose some friends with whom you are on better terms?"

"No, Judge. That is all right. Those fellows have carried me for so long they might as well finish the job."—The American Legion Weekly

NEWS FOR THE FARMER

The Short Course in General Agriculture given each year by the University of California College of Agriculture will be given during the first week of the new year from January 2 to 7 at the University Farm School at Davis.

Lectures, demonstrations and field trips will fill practically every hour of the six days of the short course. However, the subjects are grouped so that any farmer who cannot stay away from home the entire week may come for the special day or days when the program offered is of particular interest to him. The special object in view in arranging the program of the short course was to meet the needs of intending settlers and persons who wish to become acquainted with the agricultural features of the state.

The lectures and demonstrations in the various branches of agriculture will be given by recognized authorities in their respective fields. Thomas F. Hunt, dean of the College of Agriculture, will open the program with a lecture entitled Lessons from Egyptian Agriculture. Dean Hunt will give a lecture on The California Farmer the following moring.

Dr. Elwood Mead, professor of rural institutions, will speak on Financing the Development of a Farm and the Future of Rural Development in California during the week of the short course. Lectures on the agricultural features and types of farming in different sections of the state will be given by members of the faculty who are the most familiar with the farming in each section of the state.

The last lecture will be given on Saturday forenoon, January 7, by B. H. Crocheron, professor of agricultural extension. The title of the lecture is How the California Farmer can Use the Agricultural Extension Service.

Further information on the Short Course and a full program of the lectures may be obtained from the University of California College of Agriculture, Berkeley, Cal.

Short Courses for Dairy Manufactures to be Given in January

The University of California College of Agriculture is offering a new form of instruction for experienced butter makers, cheese makers and milk plant operators for ten days beginning Feb. 6. The instruction will include three lectures each day by members of the Dairy Instruction Division, three hours practice work and two hours devoted to discussions of commercial manufacturing problems.

Detailed information may be secured from the Dairy Industry Division, University Farm, Davis, Cal.

Nicotine Dust as an Insecticide

Aphis, thrips, worms, beetles, slugs snails and other similar garden and orchard pests can be controlled by a nicotine dust blown into plants in a dry form, according to R. E. Smith, professor of Plant Pathology, at the University of California. This new insecticide, Nicodust, is made by mixing the commercial preparation known as Black Leaf 40 with a dry carrier such as hydrated lime, plaster, china clay or sulphur, a practically dry powder is produced which is already on the market in several forms. The new product already has been used extensively by walnut growers in California in the control of walnut aphis. It also has been found effective in the control of pea aphis, cabbage aphis, melon aphis, pear thrips, onion thrips and similar pests. Detailed discussion of the preparation and use of nicotine dust as an insecticide is to be found in Bulletin No. 336 of the College of Agriculture Experiment Station, Berkeley.

Cocoanut Meal as a Feed for Dairy Cows

Characteristics and general value to California dairy farmers of cocoanut meal as a feed for dairy cows and other like stock as determined by feeding experiments conducted with dairy cows at the University of California farm, are discussed by F. W. Woll, professor lof animal nutrition at the University of California, in Bulletin 335 of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

It is shown that cocoanut meal compares favorably with barley and dried beet pulp in content of digestible components and feeding values, and that it is higher in digestible protein than any of our comman stock feeds with the exception of cottonseed meal and linseed meal. As it ordinarily is cheaper than the common dairy feeds, a decrease in the cost of producing milk can be effected by including cocoanut meal in the feeding rations. A copy of the bulletin, with complete discussion of the value and use of cocoanut meal will be sent free upon application to the Director of the Experiment Station, Berkeley.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE WHEN CAR OVERTURNED

Clyde Johannsen of Glen Ellen and Glen Rock had a blowout while enroute to Sonoma Thursday night of last week so they hired the Davis taxi to bring them to town. The hired car skidded on the highway near Boyes Springs and the boys had a narrow escape. Clyde's eye was temporarily out of commis ion and the driver of the taxi had to be pulled from under the overturned car where he was pinned down in a mud puddle. All the occupants were thankful to escape without serious injury.

PROHIBITION AND THE REVENUE

In the annual report, just issued, of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, covering the fiscal year ended June 30, 1921, are found some illuminating sidelights on the working of prohibition. The growth of the business of moonshining is illustrated by a table giving an abstract of arrests and seizures for the illicit manufacture of whisky and other spirits. The total number of arrests was 34,175 and the seizures aggregated 95,933.

Included in this total were 9,746 distilleries, 10,991 stills, 5,182 still worms and 70,014 fermenters. National prohibition has rendered necessary a more elaborate system of classification by the Internal Revenue Bureau in respect to seizures. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918, the total seizures were reported as 3,487, of which 2,749 were described as illicit distilleries; the next year saw total seizures of 6,989 of which 5,909 were illicit distilleries; during the year ended June 30, 1920, there were 15,416 seizures of which 14,337 were reported as illicit stills. The number of arrests for the fiscal year prior to June 30, 1921, is not reported.

It is interesting to note the figures of illicit distilleries and distilling apparatus seized in Southern states which had been under prohibition for some years prior to the passage of National Prohibition. They are as follows:

Georgia, 19,536.
North Carolina, 19,113.
Virginia, 11,365.
Alabama, 10,603.
Tennessee, 8,317.
South Carolina, 4,982.
Kentucky, 3,177.
Florida, 2,328.
Mississippi, 1,965.
West Virginia, 1,721.

Total, 83,107; which is approximately 86 per cent of the total.

The body of the report, pages 27-32 covers the transactions of the Prohibition Unit. The Legal Division reports: "In this division all violations involving civil liability were noted for assessment and considered in connection with claims and compromises arising in such cases. The amount of assessments entered is shown under the heading Division of Audit and Statistics. During the fiscal year 4,246 offers in compromise were accepted and 497 offers rejected. The Claims Section allowed 13,051 abatement, refund, and uncollectible claims, ammounting to $16,055,605.90, during the year, and rejected 3,447 abatement, refund, and uncollectible claims, amounting to $5,115,685.51. On July 1 there were pending 8,728 abatement, rebate and uncollectible claims, involving assessments of $20,415,129.33. At the beginning of the fiscal year 21,372 cases were pending. During the year 98,349 new cases were received, 51,388 cases were closed as to both civil and criminal liability, leaving 68,333 open cases in the files June 30, 1921."

Another table shows total receipts from taxes on non-alcoholic beverages, which it was supposed would boom greatly on account of prohibition, were $58,675,972.86. This is made up as follows:

Beverages made wholly or in part from cereals, etc., of sale price 15 per cent, $19,352,415.29.

Unfermented grape juice, ginger ale, artificial mineral waters, etc., of sale price 10 per cent, $14,641,566.92.

Soft drinks, etc., for each 10 cents or fraction thereof paid, one cent, $24,296,279.47.

The amount of cereal beverages containing less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume which were produced was 285,825,830 gallons. The amount disposed of was 294,301,137 gallons which is equivalent to 9,493,585 barrels. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1914, which was the bannere year for brewing, the beer production was 66,189,473 barrels.

FIRST PARTY IN STEINKAMP SOCIAL HALL TONIGHT

The new social hall recently completed at Wm. Steinkamp's resort at Boyes Springs will be thrown open to the public tonight for the New Year's party. There will be dancing, refreshments and a good time.

Mr. Steinkamp and wife have made a big success in the resort business since coming to Sonoma Valley four years ago. They have just added eight new cottages for the accommodation of their growing guest list and expect to have a fine season in 1922.

REDMEN HAVE THEIR ANNUAL XMAS TREE

The Redmen and Daughters of Pocahontas had their annual Christmas tree for the children of members of the lodge Wednesday of last week. The little ones greatly enjoyed the tree and the remembrances given them in the lodge rooms.

CITY TRUSTEE BATES NOW A GRANDAD

Henry F. Bates is now a proud grand dad and the City Trustee is all smiles, his eldest daughter, Mrs. Nancy Bates Olin having given birth to a pretty baby girl at the Bates home on Broadway. Dr. Hayes delivered the precious Christmas gift.

A congenial party of relatives and friends, including Mrs. Hannan, of Petaluma, and her son and the Friedger sisters, of San Francisco, spent Christmas at the Tony Cereghino home, the former Haven bungalow, which is finely adapted for entertaining. A Christmas feast and tree were enjoyed by all.

For the President's Christmas

Dorothy Martin, a San Francisco tot, used Sergeant Paul Gray of the Marines for a chair when she wrote "Merry Christmas" to President Harding and locked 50 pounds of almonds in a beautiful Redwood chest for the White House Christmas dinner. The chest was made especially for the President and the almonds hand picked and sorted by the California Almond Growers Exchange under direction of Manager T. C. Tucker. Dorothy gave the chest to a real Santa Claus after mailing the key to the President, and a squad of Marines from the post office guard, with a detachment of Boy Scouts, guarded Santa until he secured a receipt for his treasure chest from the express company.

FOOD PRICE COMPARISON

The Division of Markets of the State Department of Agriculture, through its market reporting service has compiled what may be termed a comparative menu of California products enabling the housewife to ascertain that she can buy the substantials for her dinners somewhat cheaper than she was able to buy them at this season last year.

The figures have been carefully checked against the best available sources of marketing information and while there may be certain discrepancies, they can be considered as faithfully reflecting the comparative differences in food prices between this period and the same period of 1920.

The tendency is unquestionably downward in most of the substantial staples. Some of the vegetables and other trimmings show an upward tendency, but these products are always subject to seasonal fluctuations and such upward tendency does not necessarily imply a disposition toward a general increase in the cost of living.

An intereseting feature of the list is the evidence it gives of the possibility of the selection of a complete dinner made up exclusively of products produced in marketable quantities in this state:

|---|---|---|
| Potatoes, cwt. | $2.75 | $2.30 |

SANTA CLAUS AT THE SONOMA SCHOOLS

The pupils of the Sonoma Grammar School were highly delighted with the coming of Santa Claus with lots of candy, nuts and toys, on Thursday afternoon of last week. The first graders enjoyed a beautiful tree in their own room downstairs and it was here that Santa was most bounteous and received his most cordial welcome.

For the upper grades a beautifully decorated tree was placed in the upstairs corridor and around it were piled the gifts which the pupils had exchanged, no gift exceeding 10 cents in cost. As one wise little fellow sagely remarked: "The larger the package the smaller the present." Another was heard to say that Santa was just about the size of the biggest boy in school.

Each room presented a short program previous to the arrival of Santa Claus, and, all in all, the pupils and teachers had a very pleasant time of it. School will remain closed over the holidays, re-opening on the 9th of January of the new year.

A TRIBUTE TO FATHER BYRNE

The following tribute to Rev. Father Bryne of St. Francis parish is from the Velvet Hammer column of the Press-Democrat:

The Valley of the Moon is quite a lovely place to live, with many of the blessings which the gods delight to give. It has a soil and climate which is hard indeed to best. It is a place of love and joy, beauty and of rest. But since its good inhabitants inevitably die, they plan to make their happy homes at Zion in the sky.

A residence established there Sonoma people earn by following the good advice of Rev'rend Father Byrne. He knows the road to heaven as a printer knows his case and shows the speed which mortals need who hope to win the race; for Satan camps upon your trail with industry and pep and nothing can defeat him but a swift and skillful step.

As rector of St. Francis church it's up to Father Byrne to teach the moral lessons which we ought to like to learn. He's made the parish prosper in the faith that fits his folks, like well built acorns which produce substantial sorts of oaks. He's always full of energy and always has a plan to help the Lord Almighty and his friend and fellow man.

Of course its unusually delicious

A PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

THE SONOMA DRUG COMPANY

LOUIS F. LAMBERT

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Anderson (Smith) of Windsor were here for the holidays with Mrs. Smith's parents and her sister, Mrs. Chester Studley. Mrs. Anderson drove her car down in all the storm and was joined here by her huband, who arrived from a trip in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Trudgen enjoyed a visit from their daughter, Beth Winston and Isabel Harvey on Christmas day and their son Wesley and wife completed the happy reunion.

The Wedekind children have been ill with severe colds and the Christmas festivities were therefore held in abeyance. Mr. Wedekind's mother has been up from San Francisco on a visit at the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Painter and family of Petaluma and Mrs. Ada Pauli and family were guests at the Goodman home Christmas day.

Mrs. J. Staudinger and daughter, Elsie, of El Verano, are in the city where they enjoyed a nice Christmas with home folks.

EMIL VALENTE TAKES OUT LICENSE TO WED

Emil Valente, youngest son of Mrs. M. Valente and brother of Fire Chief Jep Valente of Sonoma took out a license to wed a charming young lady of San Francisco this week. The newlyweds will spend New Years here.

CHRISTMAS PARTY IN WALLER TRACT

Christmas night, Dec. 25th, a surprise party was given to Bert Clark on his birthday. The evening was spent in singing and dancing and at midnight a fine supper was enjoyed. Friends from San Francisco stated it was the best Christmas they ever spent. Music was furnished by Wm. Rieley, accordian player, from San Francisco. Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Captain Schaefer, V. Mitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwartz, Miss Clare Schwartz, J. Denneli, Miss Elsie and Catherine Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. T. Lewis, Mrs. Truth Burbery, Wm. Rieley, R. Higgins, Miss Gloria Swanson, Miss Adelita McMann, T. Watson, G. Linder, Mr. and Mrs. Wagoner, Jimmie Wagoner, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Miss Violet Wilson, Billie Wilson, F. Thom, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, B. Juchter, Mrs. Olsen and F. Muller.

HIGHWAY BUILDING ASSURED BY SALE OF BONDS

Seven million dollars worth of highway bonds were sold last week by the state treasurer to the Anglo, London-Paris National Bank of San Francisco at a premium of $639,000.

Three other banks and bond houses were active bidders for the bonds, which will bear 5 per cent interest.

Sale by the state of this $7,000,000 issue of highway bonds insures the completion of all units of state highway work in Sonoma County now under way or to be started, including the Schellville-Santa Rosa highway.

TRUCKS AND TRAINS

Good roads propaganda is always well received, despite the increased taxes which follow. The farmers accept it because highway improvement simplifies their marketing problem and renders their property more accessible. City folk are friendly, for it tends to make their country drives more enjoyable. Shippers are in accord, for shipping by truck has many and obvious advantages.

But figures recently collated in Iowa indicate that, in the course of a single year, 489 public service trucks produced 6,440,210 ton-miles of transportation. Allowing but one man to the truck, for loading, driving, repairing, soliciting business and collecting bills, this means 13,710 ton-miles to the man for the year. In 1918, which may be taken for an average year, the nations railroads produced 220,500 ton-miles and 23,700 passenger miles of transportation to the man, counting everyone connected with them from section hand to president.

What does it mean?

Everywhere we hear how the motor truck helps to solve the nation's transportation problem, yet the railroads are suffering for lack of business. Have we forgotten how large a share of the cast of truck transportation falls upon the taxpayer?

There is not a highway in the United States today that will stand up under truck traffic. No one has yet discovered how to build one that will, and, even did we know, the cost would probably be prohibitive at present. We do not know that roads which cost $50,000 a mile will not stand up under the pounding.

Now the state of Iowa is considering building up its necessary secondary roads with gravel or macadam, purely in the farmer's interest. It does not propose to build $50,000 roads where $5,000 roads will serve Every state in the Union will watch with interest. —Berkeley Gazette.

SONOMA VALLEY DAIRY TO CHANGE HANDS

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lynch (Ramona Granice) have moved down from their ranch in Mendocino County and bought the Sonoma Valley Dairy business from Fred Hansen, whose hatchery business takes up his entire time. Mr. Lynch will serve the best milk from tested cows and aims to continue the courteous service accorded customers by Fred Hansen.

CARD OF THANKS

I most sincerely thank the thoughtful and generous donors of the elegant Christmas present presented to me last week and will at all times endeavor to show my appreciation by continuing to do all I can for the safety and welfare of the community. With appreciation and wishing everybody a happy New Year.

JOE RYAN.

CHRISTMAS AT THE MONAHAN HOME

Mrs. D. F. Hurst and children, Miss Harriet Hurst and Miss Teresa Maguire, all of San Francisco, were guests at the home of Mrs. Tom Monahan Christmas. A tree and fine dinner were enjoyed by the visitors. Mrs. Hurst is a daughter of Mrs. Monahan, and Miss Maguire, who is secretary to the Bank of Italy's president in San Francisco, is a girlhood friend of the hostess.

A NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE

A happy New Year to all residents of Sonoma Valley, the valley whose prosperity and future means everything to all of us. I bespeak your interest and devotion and zeal in all promotion work during 1922 and urge you to attend the first meeting of the new year of the Valley of the Moon Chamber of Commerce January 5th at Cabanot's Hall, Boyes Springs. Business vital to its future will be transacted. Do not fail to attend this meeting whether you come as a member or a general booster for Sonoma Valley.

With the compliments of the season.

GEORGE DARLING.
Adv.

Mrs. Claire Hope Hyde and daughter of Berkeley, Mrs. N. Davis and Miss Elizabeth Davis paid a Christmas visit this week to their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Adeline Hope of Broadway.

NEW YEAR'S GREETING

(By Rev. S. E. Crowe)

The vision of the glad new year,
Has burst upon our view
With domes and temples full in sight
And glories ever new.
The vows for braver deeds we make
And hope revives within,
While past is gone and now inspires
The lives of dauntless men.
We profit by the storms of life,
And battling 'gainst the tide,
Gives vigor to the arms of men
And power to manly stride.
Then battle on if storm shall be,
A hero tried and true.
And may the best year of your life
Be—Nineteen Twenty-Two.

SONOMA VALLEY BANK GREETING

Two thousand Christmas folders, greeting friends and customers and setting forth facts concerning the status of the Sonoma Valley Bank were mailed out this year and elicted many compliments and favorable comments on the pioneer banking institution.

The employees of the bank, as usual, were handsomely remembered with their annual checks.

REUNION OF FAMILY AT HELBERG HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helberg had the pleasure of a visit from all their children and their families for the Christmas feast and tree. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helberg of San Francisco, W. E. Helberg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thomas of Stockton and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Volquardsen and daughter, Joan of Berkeley together with Miss Marguerite Helberg of San Francisco made up the happy family group.

SETTING OUT 1,000 YOUNG TREES

VINEBURG NEWS

Clifford Monk of Newark was the guest of his father, John Monk, the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groskopf, Jr., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Batto on Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. August Figone and family of San Francisco are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Batto this week.

Philip Bill, Jr., has just completed boring a well on the poultry yard of Messrs. Gigerich and Callahan on the Hyde tract and from all reports it is one of the finest bored wells in this section.

Jep Valente, one of Sonoma City's prominent citizens and fire chief of the Bear Flag City was a visitor in this vicinity on Wednesday last and was sure welcome. Only a few of us left, Jep says. That's right.

Fred Houserman of Modesto, an expert poultry man, and demonstrator for the Lactine Milk Co. of Modesto after spending several days in the valley returned to his home on Friday last for the holidays and will return after the new year.

Clifford J. Estment was the week end guest of friends and relatives in the bay cities and returned on Monday evening well pleased with his visit and accompanied by his charming daughter, Miss Lois, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Bacher entertained a number of friends at a Christmas party on Sunday at their handsome residence on the Hyde tract and all present speak highly of their reception except Jim Small, who was there. Easy never says a word, but swell.

It is not often in late years that we had such a breezy Christmas day as last Sunday. One little tot remarked that it was a good thing that Santa Claus got through work before 10 o'clock that morning or he would have to buy a new pair of whiskers for next Christmas.

A delightful Christmas party was held at the residence of Acting Mayor Louis Martin of Vineburg on Sunday evening. An elaborate supper was served and musical and vocal numbers rendered. Mr. and Mrs. Grover Rubke and family of Vineburg and Miss Henrietta Weber of San Francisco were present. Miss Weber won the hearts of all present with her artistic vocal selections. But the hour of 9:30 came too soon. Good night. Pillow slip.

BOYES SPRINGS NEWS

There was a great gathering of the citizens of Boyes Springs at the Sonoma Valley Restaurant on Christmas afternoon to partake of a dinner given by Sam Ganas, the genial proprietor of said restaurant. It was a wonderful dinner and every one who was there certainly enjoyed it, as it was served in masterly style and nothing was left undone that could be done. There were about forty persons at the banquet and all were the guests of Wonderful Sam. It was a jolly crowd. Songs were sung by Miss Evelyn Preston and Bob Taylor; a duet by Miss Preston and Taylor; a trio by Preston, Taylor and Kirby; quartet by Preston, Taylor, Kirby and Bell, and Mr. Bell also sang two solos. The singing by all four of the singers was well rendered and all were well applauded. Speeches by the Mayor, Mr. Minges, Mr. Darling, Duffy Lewis, Mr. Wagner, Gus Hopp, Hasting, Mr. Boitano, Wm. Kirby and many others were all well received. Professor Harry Harmon was willing to make a high dive into a tank of wine if any one would furnish the liquid. Duffy Lewis told all about how the Salt Lake Bees were going to sting all of the rest of the ball clubs this coming year and leave their sting behind. The Mayor's talk was all about the great things that would soon be at Boyes Springs. Mr. Maley recited, Oh, How I Love You, and for an encore recited, How I Wish I Had Not Seen You. The dinner lasted until late in the evening, and in the language of Sam, it was a wonderful crowd and all had a marvelous appetite. When all was over, and the guests ready to go to their homes, they sang the Star Spangled Banner, and gave a rising vote of thanks to the genial host. The Chief was the toastmaster.

This Saturday night, New Year's eve, there will be a grand time at the Boyes Springs Club House, singing, dancing, refreshments and eats, every thing free. A late luncheon will be erved at Darling's restaurant, also free. Leave your pocketbook at home and come and have a good time. This good time will be given by the Boyes Springs New Improvement Club. See the old year out and the new year in.

Capt. Burgess, vice president of the New Commercial Club, had an accident in Oakland where he went to spend Christmas. He ran into a safety station with his auto and both he and his wife suffered painful bruises. There was no light on the safety station and in the stormy night he did not see the obstruction until too late.

Mrs. Susan Whiting came up from the city on Wednesday to deliver the beautiful brass plate to the Mayor and Chief that she gave to put on the engine house. Mrs. Whiting will be back on Saturday to take in the Neew Year's eve ecelebration.

Pop Hardie, old time big league catcher and now connected with the Seals baseball club is a visitor at the Boyes Springs for a few weeks.

Mrs. L. Rochat of Boyes is spending the holidays in San Mateo with her daughter, Mrs. R. Burns.

GET YOUR OIL STOCK NOW

As I am to be away some weeks I advise any of the Sonoma boys who are figuring to buy Griffiths Oil Co. stock, to take it at once as this stock is going fast and will not be on the market long.

Wishing all a Happy New Year
